The gender pay gap in Spicers Ltd is primarily caused by the weighting of male senior managers / directors in the upper quartile.

Across the UK economy as a whole, men are more likely than women to be in senior roles (especially very senior roles at the top of organisations), while women are more likely than men to be in front-line roles at the lower end of the organisation. In addition, men are more likely to be in technical and IT-related roles, which attract higher rates of pay than other roles at similar levels of seniority.

This pattern from the UK economy as a whole is reflected in the make-up of the Spicers workforce.

Spicers Ltd is committed to the principle of equal opportunities and equal treatment for all employees, regardless of sex, race, religion or belief, age, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy/maternity, sexual orientation, gender reassignment or disability. It has a clear policy of paying employees equally for the same or equivalent work, regardless of their sex (or any other characteristic set out above).

As such, it:

- carries out pay and benefits audits at regular intervals; and
- evaluates job roles and pay grades as necessary to ensure a fair structure.

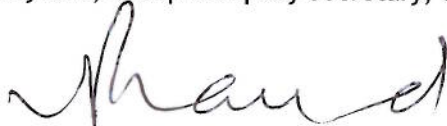

To date, the steps that Spicers Ltd has taken to promote gender diversity in all areas of its workforce include the following:

- Supporting parents: Spicers Ltd has developed new guidelines for managers on supporting employees prior to, during and on return from maternity and other parental leave, to be backed up by training for all line managers and senior managers. Roll-out of the guidelines will commence in May 2018.

Any further initiatives launched throughout the year will be reported on the company intranet.

I, Pippa Maynard, Group Company Secretary, confirm that the information in this statement is accurate.
